MORE ABOUT THE RAILROADS BETWEEN PARIS AND NORWAY

The present condition of the controversy between the citizens of Paris and Norway, and the Oxford Electric Co., presents a very unusual case, which will be of interest to many others besides the citizens of the two towns. At the hearing a few days ago in Auburn, the following facts were brought out, which have no other effect than to convince all fair minded people, that the citizens are surely asking for what they have right to expect and insist on.

The Oxford Electric Co., presented their facts through their auditor, showing the result of each year's business, since the road started, which to a large extent they had done in former hearings. They were closely questioned by the attorney for the citizens, W. R. Pattangall, former State Attorney, and a detailed statement was made, which was claimed to be according to their books, and to the returns made to the State. These figures showed that in no year since they started to run the road, had they made a profit, if they live up to the terms of their charter, but we are as tenacious of our rights and privileges as any fair minded American citizens are, and we will not give up privileges because a few men wish to make their property pay for larger dividends, at the expense of the public. In our school days we read of Horatius at the bridge and how in "In you straight path a thousand may well be stopped by three."

If the road is never to start again, the permanent road bed in Main street cannot be considered as an asset, but if the road is to continue, it is one of the most profitable and sensible things that the railroad company ever did, for that part of the road will not have to be repaired in former hearings, as well as this one the matter of putting the road into condition to run has been the one great claim that the Railroad Co. have presented, that their financial condition would not allow them to start. While there is a great difference of opinion regarding this matter, between those who want the road to run, and the officers of the road that do not want it to run, there is only one way to find out, what it will come to, either the road will be abandoned and the conditions for which it holds the charter or it will be forced to give up its charter after proving that an electric light and power and rail-road cannot be made profitable.

Who Has the Right to Allow the Rail-road to Stop? Mr. Pattangall told the Public Utilities Commission that he questioned their right to allow the rail-road to discontinue the running of the cars, and that the laws of the State gave them no power to grant their petition. The attorney for the rail-road admitted that there had been no specific law passed giving them this permission, but cited cases, in other states where such action had been taken and been effective, so as the matter now stands the commission is asked to grant something they have no right to grant, and which if they do grant, will only mean that the matter will have to be taken to a higher court for a final settlement.

The question of more revenue from the rail-road was mentioned at the hearing and the facts which we all know were repeated, that there had been no attempt to get more revenue or to do anything whatever, except to abandon the road permanently, and ignore the terms of their charter and the wishes and conveniences of the people of the two villages. If the people are willing to pay a reasonable price for transportation can't be doubted, and they expect to pay more. At the present time they are paying fifteen cents for a single ride, where they paid five cents or ten cents or double tickets if used to be. If the Utilities Commission or any interested person should wish to satisfy themselves of the comfort and pleasure of the transportation between South Paris and Norway to-day, they should take a few rides on the transfer car, which connects the two towns at this time. The auto is all right, and is driven well and carefully, and as good service is given as can be under the existing conditions, but the dereliction of public highways, such a condition of roads is a disgrace to the community. If the public Utilities Commission think that the people are on a road to ride on the condition of the road, they should go through the mud, and hit the high spots, on this trip, and then they would believe that the comfortable electric car would be a few "de luxe" even if there were a few joints, and a flash from the main line. While this is an appropriate point of this article, it is an appropriate point to say that, such a condition of roads as has existed between South Paris and Norway for the past few months, is a reflection on the town in repair, and it is to keep two villages will stand the people of money was appropriated, and the amount of road to be done, but there has been very little done, in the South end of the town, which has probably show for the money that has been spent. The road between Paris and Norway had enough money appropriated and spent on it so that there should be a good road but every one knows, that we have anything but a good road, as the many visitors to the County fair will testify if any more evidence is needed.

When Will We Hear From the Commission? Every day brings the time nearer when it will be difficult to repair the road, as frozen ground and inclement weather will go against the fitting of the road. Also the time is soon coming when the traveling public want some better and warmer accommodations, than at present. Without doubt the Commission know what they are to do, now, as well as later, and if they wish to accommodate the people of these communities they should give their decision promptly, as theirs is the next move.

It is up to the Commission to take the next step, and say whether in the face of all the evidence that has been presented in favor of the public and against the rail-road, they will give their decision, and make a ruling that does not seem to be within their power and will greatly go against the convenience and rights of four thousand people. The people are willing to be fair, and will give up their property, if they live up to the terms of their charter, but we are as tenacious of our rights and privileges as any fair minded American citizens are, and we will not give up privileges because a few men wish to make their property pay for larger dividends, at the expense of the public. In our school days we read of Horatius at the bridge and how in "In you straight path a thousand may well be stopped by three."

Go-to-Church Sunday Next Sunday, Nov. 16, is the day set apart by the churches in Norway and South Paris for an intensive drive calling together all Americans whether native born or naturalized. Aliens with respect for American institutions are not barred. Everybody who loves the sound principles typified by the stars and stripes should consider church attendance their duty especially on this day.

Our country is being weighed in the balance. It is passing through national disturbances against law and order with a crisis near at hand. It is an assault upon the whole front by the uneducated horde led by fanatical schemers. They would ruthlessly destroy every American institution and spread over the country a merciless reign of anarchy, unparalleled in the history of the world. Experiments in the political laboratory have failed to discover an effective serum against this Revolutionary epidemic. Constitutional laws slumbering quietly for years have suddenly sprung to youthful vigor and are being invoked by the Departments of Justice to stop this grim monster before it can gather for a savage assault. Armed force is not uncommon and the iron grip of law is the supreme power in many sections.

The Christian church is behind all movements standing as a tide wait to preserved American and Christian ideals, the schools and the sanctity of the home. The highest type of citizenship acquired only by a practical application of Christ's teachings, is the solution of the problem. It must first become an individual illumination from an inner spiritual knowledge. Collectively the power will exert an enormous pressure for righteous government, and respect for the highest social and industrial conditions possible to obtain.

If you believe in the democratic principles conceived and nurtured by our forefathers, attend church service next Sunday. There will be a message full of loyalty and good cheer.

Z. L. Merchant left Wednesday night for Boston on a few days' business trip.

Shot by Companion While Hunting Freeman Carver of Norway received a severe wound from the wrist from a rifle ball fired by Leroy Lapham, a companion in a hunting party. An artery and several cords were severed but a knowledge of first aid undoubtedly saved him from bleeding to death.

The principals in this unfortunate accident were members of a Norway party which included Leon Lapham and Wardsworth Spring, who were hunting deer in the vicinity of South Rangleley station. Last Friday morning they started the chase and it was shortly afterward that Carver raised his arm slightly above his head while passing through the underbrush and received the wound from a 30-06 Savage rifle. It is said the marksman and victim were not more than six feet apart and the bullet passed less than six inches from his head.

Surgical aid was given three hours after the accident and the party hastily broke camp and returned home.

Run Over By Automobile Porter B. Swift, a resident in Oxford and well known shoe maker here, was run over by an automobile here on the morning of Tuesday morning. Mr. Swift was rendered unconscious and bruised. Internal injuries are feared.

The accident happened on the Lynn street crossing opposite Wetherell Park as the employees were hurrying to their work in the shoe factories. The car made a sudden turn from Main onto Lynn street as several pedestrians were crossing and barely escaped. Mr. Swift was knocked down and dragged several feet before the machine came to a full stop. He was taken from under the auto and removed to a physician's office where treatment was given. Later he was removed to his home two miles below on the Water Street road, so-called.

The injured man has suffered much pain since the accident especially Tuesday night when the case took on a serious aspect.

Armistice Day Fire crackers, ringing church bells, a general display of flags and closed stores and banks were about the only local manifestations of a move toward observing the anniversary of a crowning event in the world war. Business continued at the shoe factories as usual only it was optional with the employees whether or not they appeared on the job.

If the road is never to start again, the permanent road bed in Main street cannot be considered as an asset, but if the road is to continue, it is one of the most profitable and sensible things that the railroad company ever did, for that part of the road will not have to be repaired in former hearings, as well as this one the matter of putting the road into condition to run has been the one great claim that the Railroad Co. have presented, that their financial condition would not allow them to start.

Frank Q. Elliott After a long lingering illness, Frank Q. Elliott, a prominent and liberal citizen, passed away at his residence on Crest street, Norway, Thursday forenoon, Nov. 6. His age was 76 years.

He was born in Rumford, May 20, 1843, the son of Thomas C. and Philena O'Grady Elliott, a prominent family in that town and among the first to settle there. His boyhood was spent there and reaching maturity, journeyed to Connecticut to commence a business career.

Returning to South Paris, he opened a clothing store in 1873, the business was removed to Norway and located in the Hathaway block. Being able to sell at a profit, he disposed of the stock and went away for a short time to another location.

On January 15, 1881, he married Clara Maria, youngest daughter of Wellington and Ann Bent Dudley of South Paris and settled once more in Norway. Another change was made, but within a short time he returned and again started in trade, becoming one of the leading clothiers in this vicinity. Close application to business commenced to undermine his health and in 1891 he sold the business to his assistant, Henry B. Foster, and he retired.

Mr. and Mrs. Elliott have passed every summer on their farm at Noble's Corner since his retirement and during the past few winters have lived in Florida. Last winter Orlando was their objective, and every effort was made to restore him to health. Mr. Elliott failed quite rapidly even in this land of sunshine and surrounded by congenial environment.

On their return north he suffered a cold in Washington, D. C., and they remained there several days until he recovered sufficiently to attempt the remainder of the journey. Reaching Norway on May 2, he failed rapidly and a trained nurse was called five days later, remaining until the end of his life.

Mr. Elliott was a Universalist and an Odd Fellow many years. He proved to be a staunch friend to every child in the village and they loved and respected him. His hand was never withheld from doing good, and only the most intimate friends know the extent of his charities to the deserving.

Besides the widow he is survived by one sister, Mrs. Harriet E. Clay of Grand Rapids, Mich.

After prayers in the home by Rev. Chester G. Miller, Saturday morning at 10 a. m., the remains were taken to Rumford Corner. Services conducted by Rev. Mr. Miller were held in the home of Mrs. Sylvia M. Elliott directly after the funeral. Burial was in the cemetery at Rumford Corner. The bearers were Elton L. Brown, Henry B. Foster, Guy Curtis and Victor Whitman all of Norway.

Fogg-Whitmore Lewis W. Fogg and Grace Whitmore were married Saturday evening, at the home of the officiating clergyman, Rev. C. Wellington Rogers, pastor of the Congregational church at South Paris, of which the bride is a member. The single ring service was used. There were no attendants.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Whitmore of South Paris. She was born in New Jersey, and educated there and in New York City, where the family came from to Maine a few years ago. Although Mrs. Fogg has made her home with her parents in South Paris, she has been employed for six years at the local telephone exchange in Norway and during the cold weather last winter, made her home in town. A short time ago she operated at the office gave her a shower, presenting her with a number of fine gifts.

Mr. Fogg is the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. George O. Fogg of Norway. He attended Norway High School and for some time was a cutter in the S. P. F. Shoe Co. later working for the Norway and Paris Street Railway Company. Three years ago he entered the employ of Leroy Spiller, the undertaker, and has learned the business. He attended the General School for Embalming in New York, and secured his diploma as a licensed embalmer, and is now Mr. Spiller's assistant.

During the war he was a member of Company L, 74th Regiment, Plymouth Division, and was stationed at Camp Devens remaining there during the influenza epidemic, and rendered valuable assistance, owing to his knowledge as an undertaker. He was already to sail with his company for France when the armistice was signed. Mr. Fogg is a member of Oxford Lodge, No. 18, F. and A. M., also of Norway Lodge, No. 16, I. O. O. F. He is one of Norway's prominent, young men, and Mrs. Fogg have a home fitted up in the Holden house on Beal street, where they started housekeeping at once. They have been the recipients of many beautiful and useful gifts in linen, silver, cut glass, and the usual line of gifts.

Ossie Ballard returned to L. J. Brooks' store Monday after a week's vacation spent about home.

Mr. and Mrs. William Moody are soon to move to Brownfield.

THE TEST THAT TELLS

Is the Test Of Time. Many Norway People Have Made This Test

Years ago this Norway citizen told in a public statement, the benefit derived from Doan's Kidney Pills. The statement is now confirmed—the testimony complete. Instances like this are numerous. They doubly prove the merit of Doan's Kidney Pills. Can any Norway reader demand more convincing proof? It's Norway testimony—it may be investigated.

C. E. Bradford, prop. of laundry, Main St., says: "For some time I had a dull pain through the small of my back, together with a tired feeling. I couldn't rest well either, when a friend advised me to take Doan's Kidney Pills, I got a supply at F. P. Stone's Drug Store. After I used two boxes, the pains and other symptoms disappeared and there was a great improvement in every way. I have had no kidney trouble since."

Four years later Mr. Bradford added: "I still have confidence in Doan's Kidney Pills as it hasn't been necessary for me to use a kidney medicine since I took them."

GREAT WAS THE FALL OF LONG! NOW ALL SING NO. 53.

J. M. Bartlett, formerly of East Stoneham, but now of 20 Westinghouse Road, Forest Hill, Mass., was so elated over the Coolidge Landslide he sent us the following:

"And behold, it came to pass on the fourth day of the 11th month, there arose a great muttering and gathering of the populace.

"And what is this?" they asked. "What sayest thou of the interloper? What shall be his fate?"

Whereupon the leaders of the market place, the fisher folk, the money changers and the scribes did arise and smite with the ballot—being a weapon of great strength and durability—the bared head of King Richardo, yept Long, the Stanger within the Gates.

And great was the tumult thereof—yea even unto the 12th hour.

And lo, on the following day there came a miracle. For so great had been the emotion of the populace that—

The mental cold was transmitted to the weather, and the ballot deluge became one of rain, and the frost turned to rain—and great was the fall thereof.

We will now sing No. 53 in the Red Book."

Taken Internally, Has Never Failed to End Most Obstinate Case of Piles in Few Days. Guaranteed.

For years it has been proved that so-called external remedies applied to or inserted in the rectum cannot cure piles, and at the best can only give temporary relief. Surgical operations also do not remove this cause, but simply the formation.

This wonderful prescription, known as Miro Pile Remedy, is so efficient in the treatment of piles, that even chronic cases of from 20 to 30 years standing with profuse bleeding have been completely cured in from three to ten days.

Think of it! Just a few doses of this carefully balanced prescription and the most persistent case of piles is absorbed, never to return.

All pharmacists dispense Miro or can get it for you on short notice. Surely it's worth the little trouble to obtain it to be rid of piles forever.

IMPORTANT—What is known as itching piles are not piles in the true sense of the word, although this condition may accompany a true case of piles. This condition, Miro Pile Ointment has been prepared as in such cases it is not necessary to take the internal prescription.

RAINBOW NO MYSTERY

While it is true that the beautiful colors displayed by the rainbow are due to the passage of light through raindrops, the popular conception that the drops are directly in line between the sun and the bow is incorrect, says the Galveston News.

The light enters the raindrop and is refracted and reflected back to form the bow. In this passage through the drop the different colors are produced which, blended, make our ordinary white light.

Two persons standing side by side see two different bows, though they present the same appearance.

Untold centuries after men had viewed this wonderful display of color in the sky it was discovered that light thus separated into its component parts had a story of great interest to tell. By passing light through carefully prepared prisms and charting the lines by heating to incandescence various substances and passing the light through the same prisms to the chart it became possible to trace and identify the substance incandescent at the source of light.

Thus by spectrum analysis not only the sun's light, but also that of the stars as well, is made to tell the story of the material of which they are composed.

Speaking broadly, it has been found that these bodies separated by tremendous distances from us are made of substances known as component parts of our own globe. The rainbow, long the mystery of the sky, has proved the bow of promise in leading to a very definite analysis of all light.

NORWAY AND VICINITY

Norway High School Fair

Students of Norway High School held their annual fair, supper and entertainment at Norway Grange Hall Friday afternoon and evening, Nov. 7. The sale was largely patronized, the supper and entertainment was a success in every particular, as more than six hundred people attended.

The fair opened early in the afternoon with the hall prettily decorated with evergreen trees. Branches of red berries with the school colors, lavender and white, displayed in good taste, made a pleasing setting for the decorated tables and booths arranged about the hall.

A miniature forest was made in the center of the hall and Gretchen Eisenwinter sat enthroned in a gypsy tent, telling fortunes and collecting dimes for her words of wisdom and mystic incantations.

The mystery booth loaded with packages was a general gathering place for the curious and many young spectators plunged into the game with enthusiasm.

Elizabeth Bartlett, Louise Thomas and Doris Adams presided at this table.

Homemade candies were featured at a decorated table in charge of Marion Millett, Rose Haskell, Rose Merrill and Elsie Kimball. Real sugar was used in this stock in trade and the goods disappeared long before the sale closed.

Forrest Longley and Edwin Dunn were salesmen at the vegetable table where a large assortment of garden products were sold at reasonable prices.

High school banners were in demand and had a ready sale at the counter presided over by Thelma Grover, Madelyn Hayden and Alice Bartlett.

Home cooking in the form of cakes made an attractive display in a booth conducted by Thelma Frank. A large assortment was on hand when the sale opened but they disappeared quickly and the late patrons missed the feature.

The booth displaying fancy needlework, tatting, embroidered handkerchiefs and a large stock of small dainty articles was prominent in the line. Elizabeth Klain, Laureline Foster, Elsie Smith and Marion Welch were busy supplying the trade and talking about the excellent quality of the articles on display.

A large assortment of serviceable aprons was sold from a counter where Erna Henley, Isma McKen, Susie Bradbury and Emogene Sanborn made good as salesladies and disposed of a large stock.

The famous sofa pillow contest where the winner carries away the coveted N. H. S. trophy each year, was in charge of Minnie Hill. Numbered post cards were sold and at a drawing later Roland Nevers won the prize.

Principal Albert C. Parker made a few remarks in behalf of the school and announced the lucky people in the several contests. Edward McCormack won box of candy No. 1, and Perley Snow, No. 2.

Orin Stone's name was drawn from the Mystic Box.

Ice cream and cake was served on lunch tables arranged about the hall and the patronage was large. Eleanor Brown, Lella Wills and Ruth Crooker were in charge.

Supper was served in the dining room at 6.30 to more than five hundred, the largest crowd ever seen at any supper in Norway.

They packed the room and a line extended far onto Whitman street waiting their turn. Crowds waited an hour and some two hours and more, the tables were reset four times with an abundance of food at each relay. Many were obliged to give up and return home for a hasty lunch before the entertainment.

Mrs. Maud DeCoster with the help of Mrs. Elton L. Brown, Mrs. Orin Stone, Mrs. Moses Grover, Mrs. William F. Jones and the high school teachers, Elsie A. Peacock, Edith M. Knight, Helen Tracy and Ruth E. Brown.

The students were waitresses and served the patrons in a deft manner. Those representing the seniors were Elizabeth Bartlett, Thelma Grover, Marion Millett, Eleanor Brown, Clara Robbins, Alma Noyes, Erna Henley, Velma Frank, Frances Jones, Verna Westleigh, Stella Hammond, Madelyn Wyman, Mary Jones and Minnie Hill.

They were assisted by the following juniors: Doris Adams, Elizabeth Downing, Nina Butters, Marion Downing, Isma McKen, Grace Dabey, Uldene Bennett. The following young men assisted at the several tables: Donald Rice, Thelma Joslyn, Harold Thompson, Willie Block, Edward Dunn, Lester Millett, George Crooker, Forrest Longley, Guy Mordock and Robert Hunt.

Owing to a necessary delay in finding accommodations for double the seating capacity of the hall, the entertainment was held up until 9 o'clock. After two selections by an orchestra of seven pieces, a farce "The Big Doughnut Corporation" was presented. Several preceding numbers were cancelled because of the late hour and this sketch concluded the performance.

The comedy pictured the trials of a promoter, Mr. Longhead (Elsie Mattor) who endeavored to float stock for a "nut" factory. His office assistant, Mr. Shortstop (Paul Nevers) was made the goat on several occasions and bore the brunt of the worthy stockholder's expressions from dissatisfied stockholders. The dashing and independent stenographer, Miss Dash (Doris Beck), and the corporation's canvasser, Birdy Pluckum (Doris Cummings) was a good portrayal of sarcasm and snarky.

Chas. Newell (Verna Kimball), who sampled the overgrown doughnut in stock and left a tooth with the manager proved fiery and destructive. Reuben Slowboy, a stock buyer (Clarence Dyer) was a product of the hayfield and played with his name in physical and mental attributes. That dainty poetess, Lulu Freshwater (Beryl McKay), who writes advertising verses for display, was a personification of artistic nerve and indulged in a successful cozy campaign with Mr. Shortstop until Sairy Redtop (Eleanor Smith) broke up the game. Sairy was surely some scrapper and put the corporation out of luck while demanding the return of her good money given for phony stock.

A musical juggled with two strong arms out a wide swath in the office force and liquidated the doughnut trust with no opportunity for a continuance of the case. Harold A. Anderson coached the play and Edward Burnell handled the grease paints.

A social dance followed until a late hour and the crowded conditions remained until the end. This closed one of the most successful fairs held by the school. Every citizen cooperated with the students in their efforts to make it a record breaker and showed a school loyalty for which Norway is noted.

Mrs. F. E. Drake will be the hostess at the meeting of the Barton Reading Club, Thursday afternoon, Nov. 20. History of Maine No. 30 will be considered. The club met this Thursday with Mrs. W. F. Jones.

"Gets-It" Peels Off Corns Painlessly

OFF They Come Like Banana Skin.
2 or 3 Drops, That's All.

There's a murderous, painful way to get rid of corns, and then there is the peaceful, glorious "gets-it-off" "Gets-It" way. After you have tried "Gets-It" you will say "never again" to all other methods.

This is because "Gets-It" is the only corn-remover on earth that makes corns peel off just like a banana skin. Two or three drops will do the work, without fussing or trouble. You apply it in 2 or 3 seconds. It dries immediately. "Gets-It" does the rest, without bandages, plasters, blood-bringing knives or razors. Get rid of that corn-pain at once, so that you can work and play without corn torture. Be sure to use "Gets-It." It never fails.

"Gets-It," the only sure, guaranteed, money-back corn-remover, costs but a trifle at any drug store. Mfg. by B. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.

Sold in Norway and recommended as the world's best corn remedy by F. P. Stone.

Electric Lights

Our citizens are getting enthusiastic over the prospect of an electric lighting plant for our village. Through the efforts of the Chamber of Commerce the Springer Mfg. Co. of Bethel has made a proposition favorable to the project. A stock company is to be organized here with an issue of ten thousand dollars. This is to be placed at the disposal of the Springer Co. to cover the expense of installing the plant. Six per cent interest is to be paid on this stock. This work is to be completed early the coming summer.

Fred Davie has moved from the Felt tenement to the house purchased by him of John Foster, located on the Merrifield hill road.

Frank Cushman returned Wednesday from the west where he has been employed for nearly a year as caretaker of one of the Government storehouses at Madison Junction, Yellowstone Park. He and Mrs. Cushman left here first of last December on a visit to their daughter in Oklahoma. Mr. Cushman reports two and one-half feet of snow at the Park when he left there the first of November.

It is reported that Joseph Seames has sold his house and land at the lower end of the village to Frank Bennett of Greenwood. Price, $1200. Mr. Seames and family will move to Kennebec Co. within a few months.

There would be great merit in a proper water system for the village. It is one of the great needs of today. The matter has been taken up by our Chamber of Commerce and there will be a special meeting at their rooms on Wednesday evening, Nov. 19th. Judge Herick of Bethel will address this meeting on the subject and he is a gentleman qualified in such matters. Every citizen is wanted to be present on that evening. There is a proposition that the town should own any water system installed and that it should issue bonds for $20,000 to advance the project.

Tested 250,000 Miles Three-Point Cantilever Springs Greatest Improvement Since Pneumatic Tires

OVERLAND 4 has been put through the most thorough and severe test possible. 250,000 miles of mountain trails, desert sand, heat, cold, mud and dust, demonstrated the quality of every part of the car long before we began manufacturing.

This remarkable test showed conclusively that Three-Point Cantilever Springs, exclusive with Overland, are the greatest improvement in riding comfort since the introduction of pneumatic tires.

They protect the car from road shocks and prolong the life of every part. They enable the wheels to hold better to the road. They give greater comfort under all road conditions. They do away almost entirely with side sway and rebound which twist and rack the car.

Diagonal attachment of the Three-Point Springs at both ends of a 130-inch Spring-base gives the steadiness and smooth riding of the heavy car of long wheelbase.

Equipment is complete from Auto-Lite Starting and Lighting System to Marshall Divan Spring Upholstery.

Come in and see this car. Ask for Booklet. Overland 4 Touring, $845; Roadster, $845; Coupe, $1325; Sedan, $1375; Prices f. o. b. Toledo.

SELLING CAN HANDLES IN MAINE'S GREAT POTATO PATCH

Nothing out of the usual has befallen the writer. He has been accused of mixing geography and crossing the Kennebec when it should have been the Penobscot. Also, of too liberal use of articles for pure fiction and easy reading. Such minor trifles don't count and here is another chapter of the story.

Moving pictures with concert was in a Caribou church that night and Walter attended. He reported something out of the ordinary and I accept it as his judgment is good in such matters. Mother and I were too tired to go and I don't believe in such entertainment on the Sabbath.

Van Buren gets its name from M. V. Buren of New York who at one time was president of the United States. The town is a village of several parts, one of which is called Keegan. Named, I am told, for Peter Charles Keegan, who insisted on having a railroad station and in operating a big lumber mill and other activities. He is reported as being a democrat and was one of a commission along with my old schoolmate, "Stubby" Fellows of Bucksport, who settled up international troubles over logs and lumber between the United States and Great Britain a few years ago.

Dinner was had at The Hammond where one table girl tried to do all the work and three others loafed about the dining room in a sulky manner. I waited 17 minutes between courses for the overworked girl to get round to me. Several others did the same. What the trouble was, I don't know. The house is a good one and looked prosperous.

The streets are no better than in other large Aroostock villages, notwithstanding the French language is used almost exclusively.

There are many good looking residences but the stores are small with merchandise piled in convenient heaps very much as Nat. Brown did in his Bethel hardware store years ago. That was an interesting curiosity and so are these. How anything can be found is a wonder. All the stores I visited were alike in this.

I sold can handles to Miss Helen Tardif. She bought liberally and paid cash. A traveling man who was selling jewelry gave way, as I was in a hurry. This is something you occasionally find but not often. I promised Miss Tardif I would not sell to any other dealer in town, of course excepting Keegan. I traveled a long way and was out of the country for long or in Keegan when I called on a trader and stocked him with handles. Imagine my surprise when I asked for his postoffice address he said: "Van Buren." I was a mile or so from Keegan.

If Miss Tardif objects, I shall buy his stock and turn it over to her as I have learned years ago if you expect to prosper, you must do as you agree. I didn't suppose Van Buren village was so long drawn out.

There is no newspaper published here. If there was I wonder whether it would be in the French or English language. Crude evidence was seen of unique and snappy job printing floating round which must have come from a local printing office. I was unable to find it and explain the marvelous attraction of my can handle invention.

Up the St. John valley is a great ride. You have left the potato fields—where potatoes are supposed to be raised—into mixed farming. Here cows, pigs, sheep and children are in evidence. Also ornate architecture and red paint blend in proportion with the prosperity of their owners. I like it. It is different. Good crops are raised and the politeness of those you meet is in marked contrast with what is seen in Mexico and Peru. (Oxford County, I mean). Many of the houses are not large but they are occupied and filled with the gaiety of home attractions. Hens, chickens and sheep and swine, as to retain it for a life time—a loyal, unswerving democrat of the old school. I intended laying a wreath on his grave but social demands and call for Economy Handled prevented.

It is said when he first went to the capitol at Augusta it required a week's time to get there. As improvements in transportation come, the time lessened and when it got so he could make the trip between sun and sun, Mr. Dickey said he had really got out of the woods. Wm. Dickey was a power up this way and used it with such prudence and skill as to retain it for a life time—a loyal, unswerving democrat of the old school. I intended laying a wreath on his grave but social demands and call for Economy Handled prevented.

It is at Port Kent. It has a custom house and is on the border and I like that. The "border" presents great attractions for some of the States' people now. I intend spending next season's vacation there or in Canada, depending somewhat on the laws and the exigencies of the can handle business.

Plans were laid in Houlton to visit St. Francis, going up one side of the river and returning on the other—15 miles each way—but Mother objected. She thought I'd better defer it until next season. Walter expressed no opinion and we decided to turn about and go over and down the hills to Ashland, but did not start until after calling on Mrs. Turner C. Hutton and selling Economy Handled to C. Nadeau who has a big store filled with all kinds of hardware.

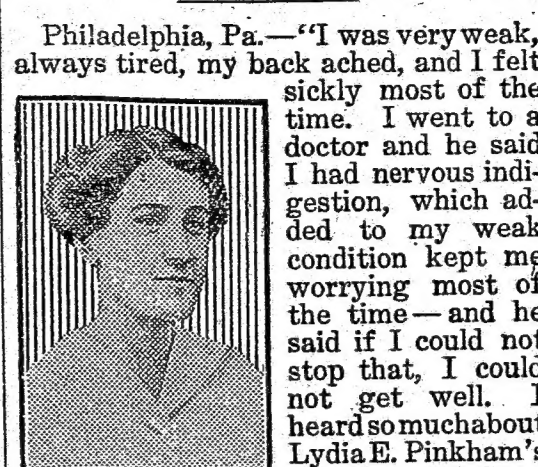

Turner C. Hutton was out of town but I called on his wife and saw the boy and listened to their story since leaving Norway. They went to Portsmouth, N. H., but were unable to get rent suitable to live in and Mr. Hutton got transferred from Government work there to come to Fort Kent and assist the custom house officer in his duties here. They are doing well and liking Mr. Turner was "down river" when I was there. He has since written expressing regrets that he did not see me.

Note 1.—Next week, nothing preventing, I'll take the readers, a few of them, along with me to Ashland, Presque Isle, Lincoln and Bangor and perhaps farther.

Note 2.—There are two Kennebecs (Little and Big), also a stream by that name that manages to get into the Moosehead aquatic or Big Lake at Indian Rock. This is in the Rangeley System which is the head water of the Androscoggin River. Now you know where you are, if not, write me.—Editor.

THIS WEEK, NERVOUS MOTHER

Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Health.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I was very weak, always tired, my back ached, and I felt sickly most of the time. I went to a doctor and he said I had nervous indigestion, which added to my weak condition kept me worrying most of the time—and he said if I could not stop that, I could not get well. I heard so much about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that I bought it and took it for a week and felt a little better. I kept it up for three months, and I feel fine and can eat anything now without distress or nervousness."—Mrs. J. W. Wooten, 2242 North Taylor St., Philadelphia, Pa.

The majority of mothers nowadays overdo, there are so many demands upon their time and strength; the result is invariably a weakened, run-down, nervous condition with headaches, back-ache, irritability and depression—and soon more serious ailments develop. It is at such periods in life that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will restore a normal healthy condition, as it did to Mrs. Worthline.

near the road. Some of them were located a good ways from the river and I thought they could not be the boundary which I have heard so much about in years gone by. On inquiry of Mr. R. H. Sprague of Presque Isle was told it took four of these monuments to find the boundary and that "the line" isn't all the way in the St. John River. There are two monuments on this side and two on the other side and where the diagonal lines cross is the boundary. It would take Al Stevens' "true meridian transit" to work it out, I'm thinking.

I was told North Madawaska was the farthest north point of land in Maine, but if the map is correct, Range 20 is ten miles nearer the North Pole. The former town figured in the bloodless boundary war of the 40's when Capt. Amos F. Noyes led his military company into the wilderness to be ever after known as "Madawaska Heroes." Thus the name of the town got into history. Frank D. Fournier is my selling agent here as well as postmaster. He will have a lot for them, doubt as the people are thrifty.

Frenchville was "jumped." That is the language of commercial travelers. Walter stepped on the throttle and tried to beat out darkness and a shower by getting to Fort Kent first. This he did. The rain went down, the clouds parted and the sun shown when we reached the Acadia for the night. This hotel is new and takes the place of the famous old Dickey House. It is all right and undoubtedly was founded by Holman Day's Duke of Fort Kent—Wm. Dickey, who represented his district in the legislature a life time.

It is said when he first went to the capitol at Augusta it required a week's time to get there. As improvements in transportation come, the time lessened and when it got so he could make the trip between sun and sun, Mr. Dickey said he had really got out of the woods. Wm. INDIAN SUMMER

Indian summer is a term loosely applied to any period of exceptionally fine weather occurring during October or November, but the weight of authority seems to place it in November. According to one tradition of the Indians "they always had a second summer of nine days just before winter set in," which would indicate November. Indian Summer in North America corresponds to a similar season prevailing during the late Autumn in England and the Mediterranean countries, called St. Martin's Summer, from St. Martin's festival, which falls on November 11.

Norway and Vicinity

Vivian Akers has had his studio newly painted throughout and general improvements made in and about his place of business.

The Twin Town Baking Co. is getting settled in their new quarters, corner of Main and Cottage streets. An oven 10 by 15 feet was moved from the bakery at South Paris, Tuesday and is being set up by Wilson Walker and Hiram Wiles. This iron, cement and fire brick affair can handle two hundred large loaves of bread at one baking and is modern in every respect. They expect to open for business next week.

Leslie E. McIntire of East Waterford has had a series of pictures enlarged and sent to Bangor to be on exhibition at the Pomological, Seed and Holstein Association meetings which are to be there next week. The pictures include Susan Solitude the record holstein milk producer; the bull which leads his herd a picture of his banner corn field and different views about the farm. The pictures give a fine idea as to the lay out at "Greenfield" and the excellent stock raised there.

Norway Grange met in regular session Saturday afternoon, Nov. 8th with worthy Master Abbott in the chair. Officers present, Lucella Merriam, Chaplain, Ulline Bennett, Steward, Susie Bradley, L. A. S. After the close of the routine business the first and second degrees were conferred on two candidates. This was followed by a short program and the Grange was closed until reopened, Saturday, Nov. 22nd, at 1:30 p. m. when the third and fourth degrees will be conferred on four candidates.

Mrs. Daisy Wilson of Buffalo, N. Y., was a guest over the holiday of Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Blake, Cottage street. Mrs. Wilson was a member of the Blake family when they resided in Davis, W. Va.

Party to Norwegians in Massachusetts. Mr. and Mrs. Eugene E. Andrews, who are spending the winter at Allston, Mass., gave a party Saturday evening at their apartments on Glenville Ave. in honor of Francis S. Andrews of Dartmouth, who was spending the week end in Boston. The guests were, with two exceptions, Norway people having permanent or temporary homes in Boston and neighboring cities.

The evening passed in a social way and dainty refreshments were served. It was a happy reunion and the guests appreciated this thoughtfulness on the part of Mr. and Mrs. Andrews.

Those who attended were Francis S. Andrews, Donald B. Welch, David A. Klein, George A. Sanderson, Mr. and Mrs. William Stanton, Master Francis Stanton, Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. McSwiney, Doris L. Brooks, Hazel Foster, Lillian Doris Foster, Thelma M. Gerry, Mrs. George P. Locke, Mrs. George M. Pridmore, Mrs. S. B. Hebbard and Christine Leavitt.

A number receiving invitations and unable to attend were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Kneeland, Clayton B. Heath, Marion True, Marion Haskell, Irene Locke, Clara Kerr and Russell H. Bethell.

36th Annual Thanksgiving Ball. The 36th annual Thanksgiving Ball, given under the auspices of Pannepase Lodge No. 18, K. of P., will be held in Norway Opera House Thursday evening, Nov. 27.

Floor manager, E. J. Sharon. Aids: Elton Brown, V. H. D. Smith, D. B. Partridge, W. A. Lewis, E. M. Noyes, C. H. Billings. Honorary aids: J. E. The churches unite in a Union Thanksgiving concert at the Congregational church Sunday evening, Nov. 23. There will be instrumental music, choruses, duets and vocal solos given by talent from the several churches in town. An offering will be taken to supply Thanksgiving cheer for those in unfortunate circumstances.

Thalmer Joslin put up the aerial over his home this week for a wireless outfit to be installed in the house. Several friends are in this and other outfits may spring up about town in the near future.

Frank L. Starbird a Wrestling Promoter

A wrestling show strictly on the level and not a "pussy paw" exhibition is promised by Frank L. Starbird. The big fight will come off Tuesday evening, Nov. 18 at Norway Opera House, commencing at 8 o'clock.

Three fast bouts are carded with every gamster in for the fat purses. Something doing right along with no time off for naps.

The main bout should prove a corker with Hannek Hakala, the Greenwood heavyweight, with 190 pounds to his credit, against Homer Truman, the well known champion of Oxford County, weighing less than 170 pounds and a good deal less than 170 pounds.

Two preliminaries will include Honey Hiltunen of West Paris against "Bob" Shaw of South Paris. The boys are game as young roosters and have an interesting line of tricky stuff to show.

Mike Nadir, the Syrian terror, and Geo. Crocker, both of Norway, will scrap and try for a decision and the prize. This pair are after the town championship.

Locally and carefully and witnessed real sport from homemade talent, Frank promises a genuine, dyed in the wool, country scrap, mixed with science and corn fed strength. An experienced referee will keep everything straight.

What to do if You Lay up

Your Car This Winter

Take or send your battery to the nearest service station to be stored until you need it. The additional security and convenience of leaving this to the Service Station far outweighs the moderate expense. Willard Service Stations are responsible to over three and a half million battery owners and they can be trusted to do the job right. Your storage battery is too valuable to be put in the hands of anybody but an expert.

Wet Storage

Wet storage means that your battery will be kept properly filled with water and charged at regular intervals to keep the plates in a healthy condition.

This form of storage is recommended only for the still better Willard Battery with Threaded Rubber Plates, or for a wood insulated battery that has been in service only three or four months.

Unless injured by abuse, Willard Threaded Rubber Insulation requires renewal and the battery should not be disassembled as long as it continues to operate.

If you do not intend to run your car this winter, write, telephone, or call upon the Willard Service Station nearest you immediately for full particulars about the storage of your battery.

Remember Willard Service Stations are responsible to the Willard Battery Company for assisting every car owner to get as much service as possible from his storage battery.

We will call for batteries in Norway after Nov. 15th

Dry Storage

Dry storage is recommended for all batteries with wood insulation which have given a summer's service.

The plates will be disassembled and carefully stored in a dry place. In the spring, new insulation is put in and the battery charged and put in condition for service.

With the wood-insulated battery this is the only method by which you can be sure that your battery will be in serviceable condition in the spring.

The Question of Shoes

In these days of scarcity of merchandise and high prices it is particularly important to make every dollar you spend bring in 100 per cent. value.

For many years, to give the best shoes in quality and style at prices commensurate with their worth, has been our aim: and that this policy has met with public approval is testified to by the enormous growth of our shoe business.

Now as to prices: Shoes are high, but they are not out of proportion to all other classes of merchandise. The highest grade shoes cost from $18.00 to $25.00 per pair; but it is not necessary for you to pay that much. Our prices begin at $4.00 and range up to $14.00.

We are giving our customers the best value possible at all times. In every case we are giving them the advantage of any favorable buying, and adhering to the same margin of profit we received before the war.

This is important: If you will figure your shoe bills for the year we feel sure that you will wear Daughlass or Regall shoes. They will wear better, hold their shape longer, and give more service than any other kind we know of for the same price.

Our Winter styles are now ready, and we welcome your searching inspection.

In these days when labor saving devices are taking the place of personal drudgery in the home, unfortunate indeed is the woman who continues to use a corn broom in sweeping her rugs and carpets. NATURAL FRUIT AND INTEMPERANCE

The following communication was received before frosts destroyed the stage setting of this story. We send it along however, believing the real temperance thought will be discovered between the lines of mild sarcasm.

I wonder if their Drys will take notice, the kind of temperance, the great quantities of alcoholics coming in this season. Tons and tons of them. Some sugar and berries and let it work you know. "Let the good work go on!" Nature will help you in your work with the sugar and the berries. You, sugar and your berries working together and of course working in harmony.

Oh yes! You want some jugs, lots of jugs, the more the better. Then in the quiet of old winter how beautiful the jugs will look, your spirits will come up to top notch. Everything will take on that rosy tint and you can surprise your neighbors by your wonderful powers of conversation. And keep filling up your glass so - so as it were etc., and soon your dear neighbors will begin to take notice of you right up smart.

There are real Drys and then again there are the enforced Drys. Dry Drys are really wet Drys. They are the Drys because they cannot get the wet goods. Alcohol is one of nature's greatest productions. But she is very wise in not having springs of it beside the road, and little cute brooks running down the hill sides with cascades, and little resting places where the alcohol would be retained as it were etc.

I have seen bees beneath a linden tree so humbly drunk they couldn't stand or fly or go home. But what good would it do to deliver a $5.00 temperance lecture to them in the condition they were in? "Put the law to them?" No!

The North American Red Man was the only human being who did not brew or distill an intoxicating drink. Unknown to them until civilization introduced it, rum and at the old raisings of barns, the driving of the king-pin and setting the babies hair. Fishing and hunting inspired by the vital juice. "Lickering up" of friends and the homes ruined, and the suffering of women and children and the abusing old horses. And the strain of the victim during the bat period. The song of the vine and bush and the old natural fruit apple tree.

Yours truly

on the subject of shortbread, so popular with Scotch and English folk.

"But, good as was the old-fashioned kind," remarked our hostess, "it was so extremely rich that the heavy taste lingered long after eating."

"Well," said Betsy, "there's nothing like that about the shortbread we have at our house—Lorna Doone Biscuit. I squares that come already baked and ready to serve, any time."

"I was talking to mother about them only the other day," remarked Betsy, "she told me that it was so long ago when the kitchen was so different."

"Yes, that's the beauty of all National Biscuit Company products is—they are always ready—night and day—and always fresh. Their ready-ness and freshness, however, are not the only features that recommend them. A still greater consideration is the fact that National Biscuit Company products obviate the necessity for mixing and baking at home, and any woman who has spent a little of her time in the kitchen, knows the comfort, efficiency and economy of buying these uniformly good ready-to-serve products."

All books now out are wanted brought in soon as possible and those loaned the school soon as possible after the 19th. Fair Notes.

At the meeting of the Grange Saturday afternoon the following statement regarding the financial success of the Grange fair in September as accurately as could be made up to date showed total receipts for the day $519.15, total expenses $439.10, hence net gain $80.05. There were some more receipts reported or known about not yet brought in so that it is liable finally to reach the $400.00 mark. The work materials needed was almost wholly received from the Grange members. Much of the expense is due to material bought for the ice cream and "hot dog" booths. The successful management was due wholly to the worthy master D. A. Grover and his efficient wife. Every other committee willingly followed their directions.

The program for the next meeting will be State of Maine Day. Singing, "My State of Maine". Early History of Maine. School, Manufactures, etc. Singing, "When the Silver Bells Ring". Over the Hills of Old Maine. Paper, "Famous Women of Our State". Optimistic Talks on the Possibilities Ahead. Singing, "Hurrah for Old New England" and other readings and songs. It is hoped there will be a good attendance. The first meeting in December is an all day meeting and nominations of officers for the ensuing year.

The unfortunate accident occurred at his home about 9 o'clock Saturday evening during a gathering of relatives, who were visiting the family a number of days.

Several rifles were lying about and Mrs. Winfield Flinders one of the guests was being instructed in the use of fire arms. She picked up one for examination after the chamber had been emptied as all supposed. In some unknown manner a cartridge believed to have stuck in the magazine was discharged. The bullet entered Mr. McAllister's left thigh causing a jagged wound.

Physicians from Norway and Lovell remained with the patient until early Sunday morning and late in the day the limb was amputated by a Lewiston surgeon. He failed to rally from weakness caused by the loss of blood and shock.
